Railroad Blocks Trip

C. D. Gabrielson of this city has had his vacation delayed two days on account of his baggage being held up by the Southern Pacific company at Albany, and naturally he is angry. In fact he is so angry that he has sent in a vigorous kick to the railroad commission asking that the "nefarious" practice be stopped. Gabrielson says that the railroad company does not transfer baggage to the east side road until it feels like it. In the mean time he, with two other Salem men, is waiting at the hotel in Lebanon for their baggage to arrive. They want to take the stage from there to Cascadia, but they feel that they may need a change of clothing, and their trunks are still in Albany. They have already missed one stage. The next one leaves soon, and there is still no sign of baggage.

Renovating School

The interior of the Park school is being re-kalsomined and otherwise generally renovated. The work will be completed before the school term opens this month.

THINK MURDERER TOOK JEWELS

(United Press—Leased Wire.)

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 2.—Captain of Detectives Peterson of this city today is bending all his efforts toward finding the jewels supposed to have been taken from Mrs. Alice Donohue by her murderer, and thought now to be in pawn shops of Oakland or San Francisco. If these can be located, a definite connecting link will be established between the victim of the crime and her assailant.

A theory that Gustav Allstead, held in detainue was only the agent of another person who induced him to carry out a foul murder has been advanced to account for certain mysterious facts in the case, but this is scoffed at today as absolutely groundless by Captain Peterson. The report of the chemist on the contents of the dead woman's stomach is expected late today or tomorrow.

Allstead, the suspected carpenter, is still held under a petty robbery charge in the Oakland jail.

A full blooded Bottawatomie Indian was captured yesterday after a running fight, he in a stolen motor boat and his burners in a chartered steamboat, on the Chicago canal. He was charged with larceny.

BIG TREE GROVE IS IN DANGER

(United Press—Leased Wire.)

Stockton, Cal., Sept. 2.—According to a special dispatch to the Record this morning from Murphy's camp, Calaveras county, the big forest fire which broke out in the mountains Monday afternoon is now burning on the edge of the Big Trees. Last night the fire burned up to within 200 yards of the famous Big Trees hotel. The resort was saved by back firing. From the hotel, the fire swept north about a mile and then back to Torrington, more generally known as the old Garners station. An area ten miles square has been burned over and considerably heavy timber has been destroyed. Several of the forest giants in the grove are reported to have been burned out bushes is impossible at this time to give accurate details.

The fire was started by a spark from one of the traction engines hauling logs to Manuel's sawmill Monday afternoon.

Hundreds of men under the leadership of the forest rangers are out fighting the flames. So far as is known, no buildings have been destroyed. Only about a month ago forest fire raged in the vicinity of the Big Trees for nearly two weeks, and threatened to destroy the famous grove.
